CARPETS.
NEW STORE IN HUNTINGDON.
JAMES A. BROWN has just opened a large CARPET STORE on the second floor of his brick building, where buyers will find one of the largest and best assortments of BRUSSELS, INGRAIN, DUTCH WOOL, COTTON, RAG, LIST, VENITIAN and SCOTCH HEMP Carpets, Also, COCOA and CANTON MATTINGS, and FLOOR OIL CLOTHS, Ever offered in central Pennsylvania. It is well known that a merchant who deals entirely in one line of goods buying largely from manufacturers is enabled to give his customers advantages in prices and assortment (in that line of goods) that are not to be found in stores professing to do all kinds of business. I shall aim therefore to make it the interest of all in want of the above goods, to buy at the regular Carpet and Oil Cloth Store. Dealers can buy of me by the roll at wholesale prices. ap13'69 JAMES A. BROWN.

THE ÆTNA STILL AHEAD.
IT has been tried and has never failed to give satisfaction to the purchaser. Farmers will find it to their advantage to call on the subscriber during the April court and examine the above machine. It will be on exhibition at the Court House in Huntingdon during the two weeks of court. It is a Combined Machine; can be changed from a Mower to a Reaper in a few moments; can be worked with a slow team, it being higher geared than other machines and the draft being reduced to the lowest attainable point. Reaping and Mowing with the Ætna is no harder on the team than plowing oats and stubble. It is believed by all who have tried it that it is the machine best adapted to the wants of the farmers in this county. It has no side draft and no weight on the horses' necks. We will also have one of the Wood Reapers and Mowers on the ground at the same time. Farmers intending to purchase machines the season will do well to examine the above machines before purchasing elsewhere. All you want is to examine the Ætna to enable you to make up your mind what machine to buy. I am the authorized agent of Messrs. Wharton & Maguire for the above machines, also for the Willoughby Gum spring Drill. I will also have one of the famous Harpoon Hay-forks on hand, which every farmer should examine whether he needs a fork or not. Every farmer should have one. They are the best in the market. No farmer that tries one could be induced to purchase any other kind. I have the exclusive right of this county. Wharton & Maguire are my agents for the sale of the above Hay Fork. Any other party selling the above Fork in Huntingdon county will be dealt with according to law in such cases. Don't forget where to call. At Wharton & Maguire's, or at the Court House during court week. THOMAS W. MONTGOMERY, apr-2m Neff's Mills, Hunt. co., Pa.

NEVER SATISFIED.

A man in his carriage was riding along,
A gaily-dress'd wife by his side,
In satin and laces she looked like a queen.
And he like a king in his pride.
A wood-sawyer stood in the street as they passed,
The carriage and couple he eyed,
And he said, as he worked with a saw on the log,
"I wish I was rich, and could ride."

The man in the carriage remarked to his wife,
"One thing I would give if I could,
I'd give all my wealth for the strength and the health
Of the man who is sawing the wood."
A pretty young maid, with a bundle of work,
Whose face in the morning was fair,
Went tripping along with a smile of delight,
While humming a love-breathing air.

She looked in the carriage—the lady she saw,
Arrayed in apparel so fine,
And said in a whisper, "I wish in my heart
Those satins and laces were mine."
The lady looked out on the maid with her work,
So fair in her calico dress,
And said, "I'd relinquish position and wealth
Her beauty and youth to possess."

Thus it is with the world; whatever our lot,
Our mind and our time we employ
In longing and sighing for what we have not,
Ungrateful for what we enjoy.

How we Obtained a Home.

It was a dreary November night, the rain had been falling all day, and I was thoroughly and inwardly disconsolate, when my little wife met me at the door.

"Why, Will, what has caused you to be so late?" said she; "the tea has been steeped this hour, and I really began to fear that some one had taken a fancy to your watch, and caused you an unpleasant delay."

This remark was made with reference to an ancient time-keeper which I carried—a huge watch which had belonged to my grandfather. My wife was always predicting that some gentlemanly footpad would seek to possess himself of this valuable, if I was not more careful about exhibiting it. The truth was, she was sorry in her heart that I could not afford a better one, and so she took this method to banter me.

We sat down to tea that night in our cozy little back parlor, beside a cozy grate fire, and the fragrant and stimulating Oolong, and my wife's cheery talk, soon caused me to forget my long walk, and the drenching, and the unpleasant incidents of the rain.

"Do you know, my dear," said I, breaking open a white, creamy biscuit the while, and laying on a slice of yellow butter, "do you know I had some very serious thoughts on my way home to-night?"

"Oh, no doubt you had," said she, "you thought perhaps in a fit of mental abstraction, how much you had made on the last 'corner,' in speculation."

All this was decidedly naughty:—You see I had managed to save a thousand dollars, and a friend of mine knew it, and he also knew a nice "corner" on wheat, and the half of my humble pile he said was sufficient seed for a rich harvest on such a "corner" as was preparing. Well, I invested, partly to please my friend, and more to please myself, to make a little money quick, and the result was the following Saturday night—Will Aitkin minus five hundred dollars.

No," said I, "nothing of the kind. I was thinking how hard it is to be poor. How hard to toil on year after year, and just barely make a living.—Here we live in a rented house. We have paid out in rent for this little cottage three times its first cost. A man ought to own the house he lives in, if it be but a shed. I have never seen the time when I could spend money for a house. When fortunate in speculation, I have let my funds slip thro' my fingers, I don't know how, and my regular salary is only sufficient for our yearly expenses."

"Do you mean to say," said she, looking at me archly over the cup, "that you would willingly compel the wife of your bosom to live in a smaller and cheaper structure than this? Do you, really?"

"No, no," said I; and indeed, if I were to think of building a cheap cottage, where is the money to come from?" and then I groaned audibly over the aforesaid "corner."

"Well," said she, "I am glad you are still a devoted husband, not disposed in the least to play tyrant; but would it not be well now that we are on the subject, to see if there is not some way open to liberty? For my part I would like to watch over a patch of ground which we could call our own. "Do you know," said she, "that I have never cared anything about flowers here. It is not because I am not fond of flowers, as you well know, but it seems so ridiculous to be cultivating flowers on rented ground. How I would like to be mistress of a little yard, and then the flowers would be my own."

The fact is, my wife had been always talking after this manner. She wanted me to build a house, even though it had but one room. And so I answered her:

"Yes, yes, but where is the money to come from?" and again I thought of the "corner."

"Well, said she, "this is the first time that ever you seemed to see eye to eye with me as to 'love in a cottage.' When the thousand dollars were in the bank, you insisted that we had not enough; now that the half is gone, I say that we still have enough to begin with, and my feeling is 'strike for your altars and your fires."

By this time we were through tea, and taking a cigar from off the mantel, I sat down in my easy chair, leaned back, took two or three whiffs of smoke, and said to her:

"My dear, will you be kind enough to inform me how I shall go to work to build a house for five hundred dollars?"

In the meantime she had drawn a stool to my feet, and was sitting looking up at me, her rosy and lustrous face beautiful in the gas-light. It had been difficult from the first for me to withstand that face. I believe I had never yet refused any request of hers save to abandon my cigars and build a cottage, and now I felt my time had come, and so I pulled away at my seed Havana with uncommon zest.

"Now, Will," said she, "listen. I hear there are lots for sale in G——— great large lots on long time, at three hundred dollars each. It is only six miles out by rail and property they say is rising in value there every year. My plan is this: Go and buy a lot now, and get ready to build in the spring."

"Yes," said I, "but you are forgetting the money."

"Stop," said she, pulling with her tiny hand at my beard, "you pay down for your lot $100, and have nothing more to pay for two years. We shall be able to replace the money by spring and have $500 to begin our house with. We can build a cozy place, large enough for you and me, for $1,000."

"Yes," said I, knocking the ashes from my cigar, "but where is the remaining $500 to come from?"

"Look here," said she. "We now pay here $300 for rent, do we not?—This amount at least, we shall save in the new house. You can readily borrow on the security you will have the remaining $500, and by a little economy we shall be out of debt in fifteen months from March next, save the $200 on the lot."

"Yes, yes," said I, "and such a house as we shall have—oh, dear."

Well, I was influenced by my good little wife. We went down one sunshiny day and looked at the lots and closed a bargain, and in the spring our house was commenced and ready for occupancy before the first of May. It was not so large a cottage as the one we had left; there was no gas, and I had myself helped to dig a well; but somehow there was a strange exhilaration of feeling on getting settled in our new abode. The affair too, had cost more than we had anticipated by $200, so we were in debt on the house alone $700 on moving in. I felt quite uneasy over this debt the first night. This feeling quickly passed off, and as we began to put out trees, make garden, and prepare for a family of children, our estate seemed so immense that the debt therein was trifling.

I cannot stop to tell you of the joy of that summer. Away from the roar and dust of the city; among large trees and growing shrubs and flowers, our moon-light nights were blissful, and the little cottage was a palace.—Two years passed, and so much cheaper had we found it living in this style that we had not only paid the debt on the house but the lot also. We wanted to remain there and never leave it. But we could not. Property had advanced in price to such an extent that the half of our lot brought $5,000.—This I put into business, and on this venture fortune smiled. We stayed another year in the little cottage, sold it, and built a large and elegant house out of the proceeds of our first investment. Years have passed since then. I own a number of houses, and have been successful in trade, and now occupy a marble front on a fine avenue; but we have never been happier than when living in the thousand dollar cottage, and my wife's advice was the foundation of our fortune.

DOES YOUR LIGHT SHINE?—The keeper of the light house at Calais was boasting of the brightness of his lantern, which can be seen ten leagues at sea, when a visitor said to him, "what if one of the lights would go out?" "Never, impossible," he cried, horrified at the bare thought. "Sir," said he pointing to the sea, "yonder, where nothing can be seen, there are ships going to all parts of the world. If tonight one of my burners went out, within six months would come a letter—perhaps from America, perhaps from some place I never heard of,—saying such a night, at such an hour, the lights of Calais burned dim, the watchman neglected his post, and vessels were in danger. Oh! sir, sometimes in the dark nights in stormy weather, I look out to the sea, and feel as if the eye of the whole world was looking at my light. Go out? burn dim? O never!"

Was this lighthouse keeper so vigilant? Did he feel so deeply the importance of his work? And shall Christians neglect their light and suffer it to grow dim, when for need of its bright shining some poor soul, struggling amidst the waves of temptation, may be dashed upon the rocks of destruction? No. "Hold forth the word of life." "Let your light shine." This is the way to save souls. "Holding forth the word of life," says the Apostle; why? "that I may rejoice in the day of Christ, that I have not in vain, neither labored in vain."

☞The most common error of men and women is looking for happiness somewhere outside of useful work:—It has never yet been found, and never will be while the world stands. Of all the miserable human beings it has been our lot to know, they were the most wretched who had retired from useful employments, in order to enjoy themselves.

AN IRISH ADVERTISEMENT.—If the gentleman who keeps a shoe store with a red head will return the umbrella he borrowed from a young lady with an ivory handle he will hear something to her advantage.

"Delightful Men."

"Isn't he a delightful man?" This question was addressed to me by a lady in company, concerning a gentleman who had rendered himself, during the evening, peculiarly agreeable. Before I answer that question, I said, I would like to see him at home. I would like to know if, when he jars his wife's feelings, he says, "Beg pardon" as smilingly and promptly as when he stepped upon yonder lady's dress. I would like to know if, when he comes home at night, he has some pleasant little things to say, such as he has scattered about so lavishly since he entered this room this evening; and whether if the badly cooked dish, which he gallantly declared to the hostess at the table "could not have been improved," would have found a similar verdict on his own table, and to his own wife. That is the test. I am sorry to say that some of the most agreeable society-men, who could, by no possibility, be guilty of a rudeness abroad, could never be suspected in their homes of ever doing anything else. The man who will invariably meet other ladies with "How very well you are looking!" will often never, from one day to another, take notice of his own wife's appearance, or if so, only to find fault. How bright that home would be to his wife with one half the courtesy and toleration he invariably shows to strangers. "Allow me to differ"—he blandly remarks to an opponent with whom he argues in company. "Pshaw! what do you know about it?" he says at his own fireside and to his wife. Children are "angels" when they belong to his neighbors; his own are sent out of the room whenever he enters it, or receive so little recognition that they are glad to leave. "Permit me," says the gallant male vis-a-vis in the omnibus or car, as he takes your fare; while his wife often hands up her own fare, even with her husband by her side. No wonder she is not "looking well" when she sees politeness is for every place but for home consumption.

"Oh, how men miss it in disregarding these little matters," said a sad-eyed wife to me one day. And she said truly; for these little kindnesses are like a breath of fresh air from an open window in a stifled room; we lift our drooping heads and breathe again. "Little!" did I say? Can that be little which makes, or mars, the happiness of a human being? A man says a rough, rude word, or neglects the golden opportunity to say a kind one, and goes his selfish way and thinks it of no account. Then he marvels when he comes back—in sublime forgetfulness of the past—that the familiar eye does not brighten at his coming, or the familiar tongue voice a welcome. Then, on inquiry, if he is told of the rough word, he says: "O-oh I that's it—is it? Now it isn't possible you gave that a second thought? Why, I forgot all about it!" As if this last were really a palliation and a merit.

It would be ludicrous, this masculine obtuseness, were it not for the tragic consequences—were it not for the loving hearts that are chilled—the homes that are darkened—the lives that are blighted—and the dew and promise of the morning that are so needlessly turned into sombre night.

"Little things!" There are no little things. "Little things," so called, are the hinges of the universe. They are happiness or misery; they are poverty or riches; they are prosperity or adversity; they are life or death. Not a being of us all can afford to despise "the day of small things."

FANNY FERN.

SELAH.—The translators of the Bible have left the word Selah, which occurs so often in the Psalms, as they found it, and of course the English reader asks his minister or some learned friend what it means. And the minister or learned friend has most often obliged to confess ignorance, because it is a matter in regard to which the most learned have by no means been of one mind. The Targums, and most of the Jewish commentators, give to the word the meaning of eternally, forever. Kimchi regards it a sign to elevate the voice. The authors of the Septuagint translation appear to have regarded it as a musical or rhymical note. Herder regards it as indicating a change of tone. Matheson, as a musical tone, equivalent, perhaps, to the word repeat. According to Luther and others, it means silence. Gesenius explains it to mean, "Let the instruments play, and the singers stop."—Wocher regards it as equivalent to sursum corde—up my soul. Sommes, after examining all the seventy-four passages in which the word occurs, recognizes in every case "an actual appeal or summons to Jehovah." They are calls to aid and prayers to be heard, expressed either with entire distinctness or if not in the imperative "Hear, Jehovah!" and the like, still earnest addresses to God that He would remember and hear, etc.—Bibliotheca Sacra.

CHEERFULNESS.—A woman may be of great assistance to her husband in business, by wearing a cheerful smile upon her countenance. A man's perplexities and gloominess are increased a hundred fold when his better half moves about with a continual scowl upon her brow. A pleasant, cheerful wife is a rainbow set in the sky when her husband's mind is tossed with storms and tempests; but a dissatisfied and fretful wife, in the hour of trouble, is like one of those fiends who are appointed to torture lost spirits.

Dull Times.

When even Chicago pauses in her tremendous strides to empire to swell the cry of dull times, there must be something in it. We infer that the Summer before us is to be one of moderate trade, and rejoice in believing it. For dull times in cities, with many houses to let, argue that the bone and sinew of our country, the producers of its wealth, are busy on their farms, and resolved not to spend the proceeds of their crops in luxuries and fripperies before they are grown and harvested—a very sensible resolve, in our opinion. If one-half the population of our cities, finding times dull, were drawn or driven out from their straitened lodgings into the broad, free country, and there employed in tilling the soil, or in mechanical vocation subsidiary thereto, it would be better for us all. Chicago's growth may be checked for the moment, but it will be increased in the long run, by such a jail delivery of her crowded, stifled, steaming lower hundred thousand. They will contribute to her trade and greatness on the broad, rich prairies which invest her, as they never can while they throng her streets and rush by and over each other in their anxious, frantic, hopeless quest of "Something to Do."

Yes, we hope to hear the Summer just before us characterized as one of the dullest ever known. For dull times do not imply June frosts, nor destructive tempests, nor deadly epidemics, nor even National decay.—Those are not dull times wherein the heedless majority are drinking and dancing and dicing in reckless extravagance, intent only on present gratification, and reckless of impending ruin. You could not say that times were dull when half our able-bodied men were engaged in burning houses, tearing up railroads, ravaging fields, and running us into debt at the rate of One Hundred Millions per month.—These were, on the whole, rather lively times; and so have all times been when we were rushing on to bankruptcy at a 2:40 gait. Dull times imply sobriety, caution, frugality, and hint that the prodigal has taken the back track, or at least ceased to go ahead on the down hill grade. He may only have tried to check his fearful momentum, and this too late to avoid the crash; but better even this than rushing recklessly on.

So let us welcome dull times with a cheerful face, as a sedate, fatherly, uncle, who has come round to see how the boys get on, and who, if he does not find them doing their level best, is almost certain to leave them in a wholesome mood of mind. The best medicines are not apt to be toothsome; yet sensible persons take them without contortions of visage or exhibition of internal disgust, in the confident hope of feeling better by-and-by. So let us, if we must, greet the advent of dull times.—N. Y. Tribune.

WHAT IS LIFE?—"What is Life?" asked a little child.

"A regret," answered a hard-featured woman.

"Who is she?" I inquired of a friend.

"A woman who speaks well of none," was the reply.

No wonder, thought I, that life to her is but a "regret." "A woman that speaks well of none." Poor, blind creature, may God help her for surely He never created a human being without some good elements of character, and I sincerely pity the man or woman who sees only the evil when there is so much noble to admire.

What is Life?

"A hope," said a sweet-faced lady. Ah, well can life be a hope to her, for her existence is beautiful. Each day her tender hands sooth the misery of others, and her sweet lips speak only words of love, faith, hope and charity.

What is Life?

Eddie, our three year older, looks quaintly up into my face, and answers promptly, "Lager bier." I laugh, but I know the answer of the child is truthful.

Bitter—sweet—intoxicating—effervescing—Life is lager bier.—Mary E. Tucker.

MOURNING FOR THE DEAD.—I saw a pale mourner stand bending over the tomb, and his tears fell fast and often. As he raised his humid eyes to heaven, he cried, 'My brother! Oh! my brother!" A sage passed that way and said, 'For whom dost thou mourn?'—'One,' replied he, 'whom I did not sufficiently love while living, but whose inestimable worth I now feel.' 'What wouldst thou do if he were now restored to thee?' The mourner replied that he would never offend him by any unkind word, but would take every occasion to show his friendship, if he could but come back to his fond embrace.' 'Then waste not thy time in useless grief,' said the sage, 'but if thou hast friends, go and cherish the living, remembering that they will, one day, be dead also.'

THE IMMORTAL MIND.—Daniel Webster penned the following beautiful sentiment:—"If we work upon marble, it will perish; if we work upon brass, time will efface it; if we rear temples they will crumble into dust; but if we work upon our immortal minds—if we imbue them with principles, with the just fear of God and love of our fellow men—we engrave on those tablets something which will brighten for all eternity.

NEW POST OFFICE.—A new post office has been established in this county, called "Morrell," in honor of Hon. D. J. Morrell, our member of Congress.

☞Hon. Wm. H. Seward and a party of friends are on a six months tour. They will go over the Pacific Railroad to California, and from thence they will proceed by steamer to Sitka.

☞John J. Patterson, Esq, of Mifflintown, we understand, intends shortly to locate in Philadelphia. The Republican party of Juniata will lose the services of an active party man.

☞The London Times says England holds £156,000,000, or about $780,000,000 of United States Bonds. The amount held in Europe is estimated at $1,400,000,000.

☞Somebody writing for the Juniata Sentinel honors us with a notice, but we most respectfully decline being associated in that way. The truth might have had more force than—— what was written.

☞Fenianism has not yet died out in Ireland—in spite of the opposition of the Catholic Archbishop and the efforts of the Queen's officers. One of these terrible fellows was found at Cork, a few days ago, in a printing office.

☞Another Cuban expedition left New York recently—eight hundred men with arms—who professed to be going on a fishing excursion. They set sail in a clipper ship. Most of the recruits are said to be from the West and have seen service under Sherman.

☞The party in power always works at a disadvantage, but not necessarily so. By a proper attention to the wants and interests of all classes, much of the disadvantage can be obviated, but it is too often neglected, hence, the disaffection.

☞The suspension in mining operations in the Schuylkill, Lehigh and Luzerne regions, is likely to come to an end about the first of July. It is generally understood and believed, that the "strike" was manipulated by some of the operators to advance the price of coal.

☞The old 'Indian Ring' say that Gen. Grant's Quaker agents are not doing very well with the Indian tribes, because they bring rain with them wherever they go. "Um!" cried Hole-in-the-Bottle, a big Indian chief of the Arapahoes, "Quaker no good. Bring water. No whiskey."

☞In 1857 a company of Germans purchased in Los Angelos County, Cal., 1,265 acres of land for $2 an acre. There are now 1,000,000 vines growing on the land, producing yearly more than 100,000 gallons of wine and 10,000 gallons of brandy. The land is now worth $630,000, and is rapidly improving.

☞The Republican party in Philadelphia has made its nominations for the Legislature. Six of the old "ring" members were successful in securing renominations, but they may have a happy time securing a re-election, as hundreds of good Republicans in the city are determined to put an end to corrupt "Legislative Rings" by permitting good Democrats to be elected in place of corrupt men in their own party.

☞A large number of the National Banks throughout the country, designated as depositaries of public moneys, have applied to the Treasury Department for permission to withdraw their bonds filed as security for Government deposits, and to be stricken from the list of depositaries. The officers say that the privilege heretofore enjoyed by their Banks has been a detriment to their business, and that the bonds of which they are deprived can be put to more profitable use.

☞The through express train from Washington to New York on Wednesday night, to which was attached the special car containing President Grant and family, Secretary Boutwell and others, met with a serious accident just north of Annapolis Junction. The engine struck a cow on the track and tossed her so that she fell under the wheels of the baggage car. This, with two passenger cars following, was thrown from the track, overturned and shattered. Several passengers were badly injured. The President and party fortunately escaped injury.

"United we Stand, Divided we Fall."

Such is our warning to the Republicans of Pennsylvania. United, we can maintain the supremacy of Republican institutions and Republican principles, for a score or more of years to come. Divided our principles will fall into the hands of our enemies, and all our good works will be undone. The institutions of our government cannot afford the transfer, therefore we must remain united or the work of the last eight years will be all lost—lost never to be recovered. The principles we represent are the only true ones by which the Government can be sustained, and if we fail to agree, as a party, then our enemies, and the enemies of free government will triumph. This must not be. We have too much to loose and nothing to gain by what is generally known as "local dissensions," not only here but in every district throughout the State. We can see but one and only one way to obviate "local dissatisfaction," and that is, by placing in nomination our very best men, and then all go to work, as one man, and continue to work until the polls close on the second Tuesday of October next. Principles, not men, should be our rallying cry.

It is of the utmost importance that we should carry the State this fall. We have interests involved of more importance than the carrying of the State, for the mere sake of carrying it. No matter who may be nominated in Philadelphia on the 23d inst., we must, and by a proper effort, can elect any man nominated for Governor by that Convention. We do not care who that man may be, so that he will carry out the principles of the party that crushed the rebellion. We have men, strong men in the Republican party, who would make good Governors, and it is for that Convention to give us such a man.

We hope that our friends throughout the State will nominate their best men for the Legislature, and so on down to County Coroner, and then go to work in earnest and victory will again perch upon our banners. "United we stand, divided we fall."

☞The Democracy do not know exactly what course to pursue in making a candidate for Governor. Cass and Packer are the most prominent candidates, but there is a strong undercurrent in favor of General Hancock. The friends of Hancock claim that he is the most available, while the friends of Cass and Packer on the other hand, claim that they have "gobs" of money, and will spend it freely to secure an election. Hancock hesitates to allow his name to be used, because he holds a Major General's Commission in the Regular Army for life, or during good behavior, and it is asking a little too much to resign a "good thing," for the uncertainty of Governor for three years, at a salary of $5000 per year, which will amount in the aggregate to little more than a year's salary as a Major General. In our opinion Hancock would be very foolish to accept a nomination from the Democracy at this time. His record as a soldier is good, but his record as a politician would most certainly prove disastrous.

☞The announcement from Washington that there will be no Deficiency bill presented to Congress next winter from any of the Executive Departments, is almost too good to be true; but that way lies the path of judicious reform. If the President will enforce upon the departments the imperative duty of spending only what they are allowed to spend, he will work at once a proper obedience to law, and a degree of economy that will prove surprising to everybody in (and out of) Washington. The Secretary of the Treasury has reduced the number of clerks in his different bureaus to the exact quota allowed by law. The other departments are preparing lists of employees to be discharged at the end of the fiscal year. If they can only see to it that the clerks remain discharged and then require honest work from those left in office, we shall have two good results—the public service well performed, and the public money saved.

☞The Democrats may take a gleam of hope from the recent election in Washington, where some of the colored men endeavored to prevent those of their own race from voting the Democratic ticket; but such a gleam is rather meteoric. We do not justify the action of the negroes in intimidating their brethren from voting against them. We have no doubt, when they become more enlightened, they will know better than to molest a man because he differs in opinion from them. This is a lesson, however, both races should learn; and white Democrats and white Republicans are no exception. We know instances in past political campaigns wherein the excitement ran so high among white politicians that bloody noses and blackened eyes were the consequences of a difference of opinion.

☞A band of negroes are in the habit of meeting in a church in the lower part of the city of Louisville every Saturday night, where they go through a regular military drill. This movement by the colored men causes considerable excitement. We don't see why it should. We may have a war with England some day, and if a negro wont fight for his "altar and his firesido," then he ought to go whipped. Let them drill ahead, say we.

Governor Geary and the Politicians.

A rumor was prevalent last week, that President Grant would appoint Gov. Geary Secretary of the Navy, in place of Mr. Borie, who would resign immediately upon the return of the President from his trip to West Point; that Geary had accepted the position and that he would withdraw from the contest for a re-nomination for Governor. The whole story originated from the fact that Geary had visited Washington and had a private interview with the President. A correspondent writing from Washington on the 9th instant, thus explains the object of the Governor's visit to the Capital:

Geary, of Pennsylvania, arrived here last night, and to-day had a private interview with the President on the coming fall election in that State.—Geary is anxious to be re-elected, but there is a considerable opposition to him among some prominent republicans in Pennsylvania, such as Alex. McClure. Not a few of the federal office-holders in the Keystone State have been induced to take sides with McClure and his friends against Geary's nomination, on the ground that he cannot carry the State, and they are bound to go for some man who will lead the party to victory, and thus sustain Grant's administration. It is understood that Geary's mission here was to complain to the President of the conduct of these federal office-holders.—Geary assured the President of his popularity in Pennsylvania, and intimated that he was about the only man who could carry the State next fall against the Democrats. Grant is not indifferent to the success of the republican ticket at the coming fall elections, but whether he will make the naughty federal office holders rally to the support of Geary against the field remains to be seen. Thus far he has only given his usual promise, viz: "To look into the matter." This is a phrase invariably used by the President on all occasions where his mind is not fully made up."

THE LAST SPIKE.—So much anxiety has been manifested as to whether the "Golden Spike" was permitted to remain where it was driven in the Pacific Railroad tie, subject to any lawless depredator who might be about, that we print the following to give relief:

"That silver bound tie and golden spike! Oh, the prose of it, the plain prose! The poetry of the operation, the tie and the spike, have all vanished. Ceremony is one thing and business another. After the silver bound tie was laid and the golden spike driven in the Pacific Railroad—after they 'had got done praying,' and before editors East and West had fixed to their satisfaction what these emblematic articles represented, the tie and the spikes (there were two of them) were quietly taken up again and deposited with Nevada's silver hammer in a car and sent to San Francisco, while a common wooden tie was substituted and the 'last rail' secured to it by a common iron spike."

☞When Longstreet was a rebel and at the head of an army of rebels, the Democracy called him a "bully fellow," but since he has repented of his folly and sworn renewed allegiance to his country, and left the ranks of the rotten horde, these same Democrats see in him one of the very worst of unhung scoundrels. Jeff. Davis, Robert E. Lee, Johnston, Forrest and Semmes are ever objects of their idolatry because they are "unrepentant rebels still," and despise the government they tried so hard to destroy and which is so merciful to them.

☞The Lewistown True Democrat says it is understood that Wm. A. Wallace will decline being the Chairman of the Democratic State Central Committee any longer, and adds that it would have been better for the party if he had declined two years ago. Now, to say the least of it, that is the unkind cut of all, after Sir William has sacrificed principle, honor, reputation —all—everything—that the Democratic Party might have a decent burial in this State.

☞All Irishmen in Pennsylvania "who favor universal suffrage, protection of American industry, and the liberation of Ireland," are called upon in an address from the President of the Irish Republican Association of the State, to choose delegates to the Convention of Irish Republicans, which is to be held in Chicago on the 4th of July. The address endorses Senator Sumner's speech, and commends his position on the Alabama question to Irish Americans.

FOREIGN AND HOME TRADE.—In the matter of the foreign trade in breadstuffs, it may surprise many persons to know what a small proportion it bears to the production of the country, or to the amount distributed through the great internal lines of communication to all parts of the country. The production of corn and wheat in the United States in the year 1868, is estimated at 980,000,000 bushels, or about twenty-eight bushels per head to the population. Rye, oats, barley and buckwheat carry the aggregate crop to about 1,400,000,000 of bushels. The total export last year of wheat, corn and flour (reducing barrels of flour to bushels) was only 18,000,000 of bushels. It will be seen, therefore, how very important the internal commerce of our country is, compared with its foreign traffic.

The Republicans made a clean sweep of the city, at the charter election in the National Capitol, on Monday last, carrying every Ward, and electing every one of their candidates for city officers, Aldermen, Councilmen, and Assessors. Seven members of the Board of Aldermen hold over from last year, of whom only two are Democrats, which makes the City Government rather Republican.

The largest elephant in the world has arrived at New York and is stopping at the Central Park.

HON. ANDREW G. CURTIN.

PHILADELPHIA, June 12.—City Councils having tendered to Hon. A. G. Curtin the use of Independence Hall for a farewell reception of the citizens previous to his departure to assume his duties as Minister to Russia, to-day was set apart for the event.

The Mayor and City Councils assembled in the Select Council Chamber at two o'clock, formed in procession and marched to Independence Hall. Governor Curtin entered a few minutes afterwards, under escort of a committee of City Councils, while the Liberty Cornet Band, which was stationed in the vestibule, performed, "Hail to the Chief." In the hall the members formed themselves in a semi-circle on the eastern side of the room.

SPEECH OF MAYOR FOX.

Mayor Fox addressed Governor Curtin as follows:

"I speak the sentiments of all the members of this municipal government when I say that it gives us unalloyed pleasure, Governor Curtin, to be afforded this opportunity, publicly, to testify our respect and esteem to you, sir, who have so ably administered the affairs of our State as its Executive; who have so earnestly devoted yourself to the alleviation of the sufferings of the gallant soldiers who gave themselves to the country in the late terrible contest for the supremacy of the Constitution and laws, and to you who now go abroad as the distinguished representative of our country to a distant Government.

"You leave us, sir, appreciated by your fellow-citizens as a faithful servant, and by many of them as a warm personal friend.

"We hope that your voyage may be safe, that your mission will redound to the honor and glory of our country and that in God's providence, you, with all you take with you, in your family circle and official connection, may, after finishing this important public trust, be permitted to come back in the enjoyment of good health, and you happy in the consciousness of having served your country in a very important manner."

RESPONSE OF MR CURTIN.

Gov. Curtin responded as follows:

About to leave the country, I feel deeply the honor conferred upon me by the city authorities in tendering to me the use of this sacred room to meet such of my friends and fellow-citizens who desire to call and say farewell. I owe many obligations to the City Councils for such a distinguished privilege, and to you, sir, as the Chief Magistrate of this great city, I offer heart-felt thanks for the complimentary and kind manner in which you conveyed to me the resolutions of the Councils, and for the personal and official welcome you give me to this place. Feeling a just pride as a Pennsylvanian in the beauty and prosperity of this our commercial emporium; knowing, as I do, the fidelity and patriotic devotion of its people to the Government in its day of deep distress and anguish, I would not have the instincts of a common humanity if my heart did not well up in gratitude to you and them for many evidences of affection I am receiving on the eve of my departure. In this sacred hall, dedicated to liberty, this Mecca of American freemen, I pledge myself to maintain, with all the gifts it has pleased Providence to endow me, the relations of friendship which have ever existed between our country and the great Government to which I am accredited; and this is a fitting place and this a proper occasion to declare to you, sir, to the co ordinate authorities of the city, and to the people, that I will try to uphold and maintain the interests and the honor of my country.

At the close of the speech the doors were thrown open to the public—Quite a crowd had gathered in front of the hall, and the hand shaking commenced vigorously.

The reception continued until 4 o'clock, and previous to that time a large delegation of the Grand Army of the Republic paid their respects to Mr. Curtin.

THE BANQUET.

The banquet given to Mr. Curtin this evening was a very brilliant affair. It came off at the Academy of Music which was decorated in a style of elegance never surpassed upon any similar occasion. The committee of arrangements having charge of the affair left nothing undone which would add to its eclat. Mark Hassler had been engaged for several days in rehearsing an efficient orchesta, and his selections of music were such as added greatly to the pleasures of the guests.

Many distinguished gentlemen of the country were present at the banquet, to show by their presence their appreciation of the distinguished services of Governor Curtin to the country during the war.

PHILADELPHIA, June 13.—The Board of Directors of the Union League of Philadelphia will give a dinner to Ex-Gov. Curtin and suite on Monday afternoon at the League house.

The joint committee of City Councils on the reception of Mr. Curtin have procured a special car from the Pennsylvania railroad company, and, with Mayor Fox, will accompany Mr. Curtin to New York on Wednesday. He sails for Europe on Thursday, when they propose to accompany him down New York bay.

A MAD HORSE.—The West Chester (Pa.) Republican of yesterday says:—On Saturday last a horse owned by Sewell Chambers, a colored man living in Thornbury township, was seized with hydrophobia. The animal had been confined in a field near Darlington's Corner, but by some means got out of the enclosure into the public road It attacked a team belonging to William Farrell, who was engaged in hauling stone to the railroad. The driver of the team succeeded in driving off the mad animal, and it is not believed that it injured any of the horses attached to the team. When the fit was off the poor brute would become very weak—stagger and fall. When the spasms returned it would again rise and attack everything in its road. Several persons were chased on to the tavern porch, and one individual narrowly escaped being bitten. In its rage to bite, its own tongue was nearly bitten off. The animal was finally secured in a lot, where it died during the night, in great agony. It was a valuable horse, and was used by Mr. Chambers in threshing grain, with a machine, through the neighborhood. What is still more terrible to contemplate, is the fact that this horse is supposed to have been bitten by a dog belonging to Mr. Elias Baker, that was thought to be mad, and bit two persons some three weeks since—an account of which was published in this paper. This supposition is strengthened by the fact that Mr. Baker's dog bit two other dogs on the farm of Mr. George Fawcett, where the horse was kept. The dogs of Mr. Fawcett were killed immediately after. The two young men who were bitten, as well as their immediate friends, are much distressed over these facts; but it is hoped that the means resorted to in their cases will prove effectual against this malady.

Eighteen in favor to one against is the vote of the Methodists of Philadelphia on the question of lay delegation. Nineteen churches have been heard from so far. This great and radical change in the ecclesiastical organization of the Methodist church of this country may already be considered as an accomplished fact.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

COUNTY COMMISSIONER.

MESSRS. EDITORS:—I respectfully announce myself as a candidate for the office of County Commissioner of Huntingdon county, subject to the decision of the Republican County Convention. If elected, I will discharge the duties of the office with fidelity and to the best of my ability. I was born in Huntingdon county, and the first vote I ever polled was for William Henry Harrison, in 1840. In August 1862, when all was gloomy and dark and our country and union in danger, I volunteered my services in Co. I, 125th Regim-nt, not for large bounty or big pay, but for the good of my country. On the 17th September, 1862, while engaged, was wounded in the arm, rendering it almost useless. THOMAS L. HALL.

Alcoholic stimulants are injurious to Nerve-health, and are ALWAYS followed by DEPRESSING REACTION.

Dodd's Nervine & Invigorator

is a TONIC and GENTLE STIMULANT which is NOT attended by REACTION. What it gains for you it maintains. When it refreshes body or mind, it refreshes with natural strength that comes to stay. We are not recommending teetotalism in the interest of any faction; but long and extended observation teaches us that he who resorts to the bottle for rest or recuperation, will find, as he keeps at it, that he is kindling a fire in his bones which will consume like the flames of perdition. Turn from it. Take a tonic that will refresh and not destroy. Dodd's Nervine is for sale by all Druggists. Price One Dollar. See book of Certificates that accompanies each bottle. 4w

"Strawberries smothered in cream" at the Castilian Garden this evening.

The Cambria Republicans have declared for Geary for Governor.

A five-and-a-half pound catfish was recently caught at Lewistown.

The weather for a part of last week was winterish.

Brown's and Yenter's brick building on Hill street are going up rapidly.

There will be a display of Fireworks and good music at the G. T. Festival this evening.

Mr. Benjamin Lutz, formerly editor of the Shirleysburg Herald, died at Lanark, Ill., recently.

The spirit of enterprise is on the increase in "ye ancient borough." and "old fogies" will soon be below par.

Thirty persons were poisoned in Lock Haven recently, by eating cheese that, it is supposed, was made with poisonous acid.

The Vindicator thinks the recent fires in Altoona were caused by a desire of some of their firemen to show off before strangers.

A man named James L. Irwin, a tax collector of Pittsburg, committed suicide at Cresson, by letting the cars run over him.

Rev. Mr. Brade, the former pastor of the M. E. Church of this place, was in town on Sunday. Age is showing itself upon him.

A Worcester's Dictionary for a lawyer and a gold pen and silver holder for an editor are to be voted for at the Festival this evening.

Saturday, the 3d, is the day generally chosen to celebrate our Independence anniversary. Let something be done by us.

Mr. Graffus Miller of this place, has been commissioned District Deputy Noble Grand of the Lodges of I. O. O. F. in Huntingdon co. Bro. Miller will make a good officer.

A rumor was afloat last week that a mad dog was in town. Their day will surely come, and we must prepare for their speedy exit.

Every man should study the interest of his own town before he does that, through a hope of self-aggrandizement, which will interest another locality.

Six men were arrested last week for stealing a number of articles from the Broad Top Railroad Company, and from private individuals.

Decidedly cool—for a man who is not a subscriber to the local paper, to ask the editor to insert a quarter column obituary as a favor.

What has become of the project of making Huntingdon the head of canal navigation? Is somebody interfering again? Is somebody asking too much for his land? Hope not.

Query—couldn't we have several first-class summer boarding houses in this vicinity.—Some private families, we think, wouldn't care a fig.

A new post-office has been established in ——— township, this county. It is called Morrell—J. A. Haggerty appointed Postmaster.

A man in Chicago has a beard eight feet long. He vowed he wouldn't shave till Douglass was elected President. He will have a wait.

Some boys have been defacing the walls of the Methodist Church in this place. The trustees offer a reward of $5 for information against any of them.

The buildings along railroad street should have fire proof rooves. We are afraid if they do not have we will have the painful duty to chronicle an extensive conflagration.

Henry R. Wilson, yard conductor at Altoona, while engaged in poling cars, was thrown upon the track, and crushed in a frightful manner. He lingered about five hours.

We meet respectfully decline to publish the production of our correspondent, entitled "At the Show," as we are of the opinion that Artemus Ward exhausted the "show bizness" in his day.

The new issue of paper money, of all denominations, will be ready for distribution to the public on the 1st of July. We will take either old or new money for subscription, job work and advertising.

The editor of the Bellefonte Watchman asked himself five questions on seeing a one-legged soldier playing a hand-organ. It would have saved him a deal of mental labor if he had given the man five pennies.

About fifty thousand dollars expended upon the public roads of this county would enhance the value of real estate more than triple that amount. Do the property holders ever think of this?

The cash system is gradually coming into use among storekeepers, printers, and other business. This is nothing more than should have been done long ago, for the credit system seldom gives bread and butter.

The Altoona Vindicator, now that summer is approaching, says the title of city to that place is "pretentious." It is baiting the city folks to recreate amid its mud, noise, &c. For a summer resort Huntingdon is the place, and so everybody thinks who has tried it.

Incendiaries Arrested.

On Wednesday evening last news reached this place that the incendiaries who had caused the recent destructive fires in Altoona had been arrested.—Our citizens could hardly give the information credence, as it was altogether too good; for the sympathy of our citizens was with the unfortunate people of Altoona, who were kept in a constant dread of conflagrations. The following from the Vindicator corroborates the news of the arrest of the leading incendiaries:

Several young men have been arrested by H. E. Thayer, Supt. Pinkerton's National Detective Agency, Philadelphia, charged with the incendiarism which has afflicted our city of late. Developments of the most astounding character have been made, and yet more startling are expected. It seems that there exists in our midst a secret oath bound organization composed of ruffians and blackguards joined together for the purpose of destroying property. The proper authorities are in posse-sion of ample information and it is likely that those who have been engaged in this atrocious business have been hunted down. Of the parties arrested, H. C. Stewart was held in $5,000 bail and Chas. Pressel, T. A. Beales and Howard C. Mazarie, in default of bail, were committed to the county jail to await trial. The others were discharged, there being no evidence against them.

Street Preaching.

Street preaching, under the auspices of the Y. M. C. A, has been inaugurated in this borough. The first of the series, which will occur every other Sabbath, was preached on Sunday afternoon last to a large audience in front of Roman's store in the Diamond. We hope the association will not grow weary in well doing, and we would suggest in order to accommodate all classes, that the services be held in different parts of the town.

Patton & Lackey, dealers in Queensware, Wall Pall, Carpets, &c., in Altoona, have had their mammoth store rooms renovated since their last disaster by fire, and are doing a rushing business. We wish them success, and hope they will receive a liberal share of patronage from the surrounding country. Give them a call and you will be satisfied that is the place to get your bargains. *

Do It More.

The splendid success of Brown's new Carpet Store in Huntingdon, Penna., shows that buyers find it to their interest to buy at the regular Carpet store. It shows also the advantage of having envious competitors to squirm, slander and blow about "the carpet store" and thereby advertise it. Something for Everybody.

An exchange says: When little children keep out of trouble and big children keep out of wickedness, and horses don't run away, and everything is quiet, editors experience considerable difficulty in finding enough material to make up an interesting column. Everything being thus adversely quiet, and events combining not to happen, can we rightfully be blamed for a scarcity of items?

How is it with our readers? Did you, kind sir, or you, madam, who have read this local column week after week, ever do anything to help sustain it? Did you ever furnish any items? Remember it is not the pen of the writer, but the acts of the people that make this column lively. Were the labors evenly divided, a few notices of each inhabitant of the village would keep this department full. As it is now a small number of supporters of the press furnish all the material for remark, while the great mass take up the paper simply for amusement and never think that they also have a duty to perform in amusing others. Let each one hold soul searching self-communion, and see if personal duty has been done in this matter. Ask yourself the following questions:

Did you ever steal a horse or anything?
Did you ever have anything stolen?
Did you ever kill anybody?
Did anybody ever kill you?
Were you ever drowned?
Did you ever die a shocking accidental death?
Did you ever elope with anybody?
Were you ever a terrible instance of youthful depravity?
Did your house ever burn up?

We fear many readers of this paper will be obliged to answer all these questions in the negative. To such we say: Don't find fault with the local column until you have personally done something to make it interesting.

THE LAST OF THE CLEARFIELD BANK ROBBERS.—The St. Louis Republican of June 5 gives the following particulars of the arrest of Jeddie E. Lamoine, one of the accomplices in the Clearfield county Bank robbery:

On May 12 the First National bank of Clearfield, Penna, was entered and robbed of about $20,000. The bank was broken into during the night, the door of the safe was ripped open and the money taken out. The burglars were pursued and two of them caught, one of them being the notorious safeblower, known as Jack Nelson, alias "California Jack." The third man, named Jeddie E. Lamoine, made his escape, and arrived in this city on Tuesday last. Meantime, a requisition was procured from Governor Geary on Governor McClurg, and armed with this document, the cashier of the Clearfield band, Mr. Daniel W. Moore, came on to Missouri, and going up to Jefferson City, procured a warrant for the arrest of Lamoine. Yesterday the matter was placed in the hands of the chief of police, and the latter detailed officers Harrigan and Tracy to make the arrest. Lamoine was arrested by them about four o'clock, at his residence on Franklin, near Garrison avenue. He offered no resistance. The prisoner was delivered over to Mr. Moore, who, accompanied by officer Tracy, left last evening for Clearfield, Pa., where the robbery was committed. Lamoine was arrested some time since on suspicion of having been connected with the safe robbery of the Franklin county, Mo., treasury of some $10,000, but was acquitted. He has been engaged in the liquor business on the northeast corner of Fourth and Green streets, under the firm of Lamoine & Co. He had been in business at that place some six months, and broke up about three weeks ago. He is about thirty-five years of age, and has a wife and children in this city.

Extract from a letter from Santa Croix.

* * * * * We had wandered for many hours through tangled forests of Tropical shrubs and trees, some of them emitting a most delicious and invigorating odor, when we suddenly came upon a large and well cultivated plantation, in the center of which were several buildings. Entering these we found them to be the "press houses," stills, &c., where the sugar cane is crushed for the manufacture of St. Croix Rum. Over 100 Coolies were at work, and the smell from the fermenting vats was very exhilarating and pleasant. We were shown through the entire establishment, and learned that all the Rum here produced was shipped to Messrs. P. H. Drake & Co., New York, to be made into their celebrated Plantation Bitters. The peculiar good effects of this Rum—which is the purest and best in the world—are well known. Not a single case of Dyspepsia, Fever and Ague, Consumption, or any such disease can be found on the Island, (except of invalids who come here for their health, and they are almost always cured). Combined with Calisaya Bark, Cascarilla, and other important ingredients, this Rum becomes Plantation Bitters; and surely no finer Tonic and general Family Remedy was ever seen. The combination of these Bitters was first discovered here many years ago, and all the Natives swear by Plantation Bitters, and say "there is nothing like it." Judging by the robust health of the witnesses, I am certain their testimony is true. * * * * *

TOBACCO DEALERS AND PEDDLERS.—The Deputy Commissioner of Internal Revenue says that a dealer in tobacco is a person whose business it is to sell or offer for sale manufactured tobacco, snuff or cigars A person, therefore, whose business it is to sell, or offer for sale, cigars, is regarded as a dealer in tobacco, and if his annual sales exceed $1000 he is liable to a special tax as such. A peddler is a person who travels from place to place selling goods. A person, therefore, who peddles cigars is not only a dealer in tobacco, but also a peddler, and is consequently liable to the special taxes upon both. A person, however, who is simply the agent of a manufacturer or dealer, and who travels as such, taking with him samples of cigars, which he does not sell, but upon which he solicits orders for his employer, from whom he receives a stipulated salary, is not regarded as a peddler or dealer in tobacco.

LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.

MESSRS. EDITORS:—The subject of town enterprise should be dear to every citizen, for without a proper appreciation of this subject, what town would be worthy the name it bears? Take the history of any town that is notable, and its growth in prosperity may be traced from the day when a few of its first men conceived the idea of manufactures and carried it into successful execution. Those men were men of enterprise, and they knew well the advantages which their efforts would bring to the town and themselves. Such men rear monuments of lasting fame to themselves and credit to their town. They are the men who "improve their talents," and make the useful citizens.

We believe that there are just such men in our town, who would do all they could to build up a spirit of enterprise, and set the ball in motion that would roll us into greater notoriety; but they can't just see how to do it. They have not the means, and without that no enterprise is fairly accomplished. We would like to see some of the spirit of the western pioneers enlisted in this place. There a man has scarcely got known, until he borrows enough money and starts in business, or gets up a company to run a factory or a mill. There a rich man can afford to lend his money, as he is benefitted by the interest, and if he chooses he can be benefitted by the shares he takes in the manufactory.—We very much doubt if there is one wealthy man in an enterprising western town that can count his wealth in gold, silver or paper dollars; but he can point to this factory and that mill in which he has so much interest. It is extreme folly if not downright niggardness for a man in this progressive day to hoard his money. What benefit is such a pile to a poor man? None whatever. But if that man of wealth would invest in some kind of works, he would be putting his money out to advantage, give employment to the poor man, encourage home enterprise in other pursuits, and increase the wealth, population and industry of his town. Josh Billings on Roosters.

There is not on the whole horizon or ov live natur a more pleasing and strengthening study than the Rooster. This remarkable package of feathers has bin for ages food for the philosofic as well as the simple curious mind.—They belong to the fethered sect denominated poultry, and are the husbands of many wives. In Utah it is konsidered a disgrace tew speak disrespeckfully of a rooster. Brigham Young's coat of arms is a rooster, in full blast, crowing till he is almost bent over double backward.

The flesh of the rooster is very similar to the flesh of the hen; it is hard to distinguish the difference, especially in your soup. Roosters are the pugilists among the domestic burds; they wear the belt, and having no shoulder to strike, they strike from the heel.

Roosters, according to profane history, if my edukashun remembers me right, were formerly a man, who come suddenly upon one ov the heathen gods at a time when he wasn't prepared to receive company, and was for that offense rebuilt over in to the fust rooster, and was forever afterward destined tew crow, as a kind ov warning. This change from a man accounts for their fighting abilities, and for their politeness tew the hens. There is nothing in a man that a woman admires more than his readiness and ability to smash another fellow, and it is jiss so with a hen. When a rooster gits licked, the hens all march off with the other rooster if he ain't half so big or handsome. It is pluck that wins a hen or woman.

There is grate variety ov pedigree among the rooster race, but for stiddy bizness give me the old fashion dominique rooster, short-legged, and when they walk, they alwuz strut, and their buzzums stick out like an alderman's abdominal cupboard. This breed is hawk-colored, and has a crooked tail on them, arched like a sickle, and as full of feathers as a new duster.

But when you come right down to grit, and throw all outside influence overboard, thare ain't nothing on erth, nor under it, that can out-style, out-step, out-brag, or out-pluck a regular Bantam rooster.

They alwuz put me in mind ov a very small dandy, practicing before a looking-glass.

They don't weigh more than thirty ounces, but they make as much fuss ez if they weighed a ton. I have seen them trying to pick a quarrel with a two hoss wagon, and don't think they would hezetate tew fight a meeting-house if it was the least sassy to them.

It is more than fun tew hear one ov these little chevaliers crow; it iz like a four year old baby trying tew sing a line out of the Star Spangled Banner

The hen partner in this concern iz the most exquisit little boquet of neatness and feathers that the eyes ever roosted on. They are as prime as the premature yung lady. It is a luxury to watch their daintiness, tew see them lay each fether with their bills, in its place, and preside over themselves with az much delicacy as a belle befor her mirror. But the consummation is tew see the wife a mother, leading out six little chicks a bugging—six little chicks no bigger than humble bees.

It seems tew be necessary that there should be sumthing outrageous in everything tew show us where propriety ends and impropriety begins. This iz melancholy the case in the rooster affair, for we have the shanghi rooster, the greatest outrage, in my opinion, ever committed in the annals of poultry. These critters are the camels among fowls; they mope around the barnyard, tipping over hay-racks, and stepping on the yung goslins, and every now and then they crow confusion.

If enybody should give me a shanghai rooster I should halter him, and keep him in a box stall, and feed him on cut feed, and if he would work in harness, all right, if not, I would butcher him the fust wet day that cum, and salt him down to giv to the poor.

But there ain't nobody a going tew giv me one ov this breed, not if I kno it. I don't think there is a man on earth mean enough to do it.

Roosters do but very little houshold work. They wont lay eggs, nor try to hatch enny, nor see to the young ones; this satisfys me that there is sum truth in the mythological account ov the rooster's fust origin.

Yu can't git a rooster to pay enny attention to a yung one; they spend their time in crowing, strutting, and occasionally they find a worm, which they make a remarkable fuss over, calling up their wives from a distance, apparently to treat them, but jist as the hens git thare, this elegant and elaborate cuss bends over and gobbles up the morsel.

Just like a man for all the world!

CANCER SALVE.—Mr. G. W. C. Gamble, of Millersburg, Iowa, has lately obtained a patent for a salve which he says will cure cancer, made as follows:

Take ashes of red oak bark being in either a green or dry state, in quantity twenty pounds; the ashes of the root known as "bitter sweet," with its bark either green or dry, five pounds; also, of green poke root mashed fine, five pounds. In preparing the compound, take a wooden vessel of suitable size, with perforations at the bottom, being such as is used to run off common ash lye. Into this vessel put about five pounds of the ashes of red oak bark and of bitter sweet, when mixed in the proportions above mentioned; then add five pounds of the mashed poke root, with the remaining portion of the ashes of red oak and bitter sweet. To this mixture add sufficient water to moisten it without dripping. Let the mixture stand twenty-four hours.—Then run it off by adding water until the strength of the ashes is exhausted. The extract will now be put in a metal vessel and boiled to the consistency of salve. Put in bottles with ground glass stoppers, and it is ready for use.

ST. VITUS' DANCE.—A Philadelphia correspondent of the West Chester Record sends to that paper the following recipe, which she says is a certain cure, and gives her name by way of confirmation:

Take of the roots of spikenard, burdock, comfrey, sarsaparilla, great brake and Solomon's seal, each a handful, of castor-isinglass and hartshorne-shaving each half an ounce. Of best raisins, one pound. Pour on these ingredients three quarts of soft water, boil them until they are reduced to three pints. Of this decoction, give the patient three wine glasses full, one in the morning, one at noon, and one at night. The dose must be repeated until the patient is cured. The patient must be kept as free from company as possible.

Respectfully yours,

Ayer's Hair Vigor,

For restoring Gray Hair to its natural Vitality and Color.

A dressing which is at once agreeable, healthy, and effectual for preserving the hair. Faded or gray hair is soon restored to its original color with the gloss and freshness of youth. Thin hair is thickened, falling hair checked, and baldness often, though not always, cured by its use. Nothing can restore the hair where the follicles are destroyed, or the glands atrophied and decayed. But such as remain can be saved for usefulness by this application. Instead of fouling the hair with a pasty sediment, it will keep it clean and vigorous. Its occasional use will prevent the hair from turning gray or falling off, and consequently prevent baldness. Free from those deleterious substances which make some preparations dangerous and injurious to the hair, the Vigor can only benefit but not harm it. If wanted merely for a nothing else can be found so desirable. Containing neither oil nor dye, it does not soil white cambric, and yet lasts long on the hair, giving it a rich glossy lustre and a grateful perfume.

Ayer's Sarsaparilla,

FOR PURIFYING THE BLOOD.

The reputation this excellent medicine enjoys, is derived from its cures, many of which are truly marvellous. Inveterate cases of Scrofulous disease, where the system seemed saturated with corruption, have been purified and cured by it. Scrofulous affections and disorders, which were aggravated by the scrofulous contamination until they were painfully afflicting, have been radically cured in such great numbers in almost every section of the country, that the public scarcely need to be informed of its virtues or uses.

Scrofulous humor is one of the most destructive enemies of our race. Often, this unseen and unfelt tenant of the organism undermines the constitution, and invites the attack of enfeebling or fatal diseases, without exciting a suspicion of its presence. Again, it seems to breed infection throughout the body, and then, on some favorable occasion, rapidly develop into one or other of its hideous forms, either on the surface or among the vitals. In the latter, tubercles may be suddenly deposited in the lungs or heart, or tumors formed in the liver, or it shows its presence by eruptions on the skin, or foul ulcerations on some part of the body. Hence the occasional use of a bottle of this Sarsaparilla is advisable, even when no active symptoms of disease appear. Persons afflicted with the following complaints generally find immediate relief, and, at length, cure, by the use of this SARSAPARILLA: St. Anthony's Fire, Rose or Erysipelas, Tetter, Salt Rheum, Scald Head, Ringworm, Sore Eyes, Sore Ears, and other eruptions or visible forms of Scrofulous disease. Also in the more concealed forms, as Dyspepsia, Dropsy, Heart Disease, Fits, Epilepsy, Neuralgia, and the various Nervous affections of the muscular and nervous systems.

Syphilis or Venereal and Mercurial Diseases are cured by it, though a long time is required for subduing these obstinate maladies by any medicine. But long continued use of this medicine will cure the complaint. Leucorrhœa or Whites, Uterine Ulcerations, and Female Diseases, are commonly soon relieved and ultimately cured by its purifying and invigorating effect. Minute Directions for each case are found in our Almanac, supplied gratis. Rheumatism and Gout, when caused by accumulations of extraneous matters in the blood, yield quickly to it, as also Liver Complaints, Torpidity, Congestion or Inflammation of the Liver, and Jaundice, when arising, as they often do, from the rankling poisons in the blood. This SARSAPARILLA is a great restorer for the strength and vigor of the system. Those who are Languid and Listless, Despondent, Sleepless, and troubled with Nervous Apprehensions or Fears, or any of the affections symptomatic of Weakness, will find immediate relief and convincing evidence of its restorative power upon trial.

McGUIRE'S

SPANISH HAIR DRESSER

FOR PROMOTING THE GROWTH, BEAUTIFYING THE HAIR,

And rendering it dark and glossy. No other compound possesses the peculiar properties which so exactly suit the various conditions of the human hair. The use of this oil as a hair dresser has been universal in every section of the country in the Spanish Main for centuries.—No preparation of art could give that elegant luxuriance and abundance of hair which have so often been the admiration of travelers in Spain. This oil is highly and delicately perfumed, forming an article unrivaled in excellence and upon which the Spanish people for many years have set its seal of enduring approval.

McGUIRE'S

Mexican Wild Flowers Shampoo Lotion

For removing dandruff and scurf from the head, whitening and perfuming the skin. This article is entirely different from anything of the kind ever offered in this country and is warranted free from all poisonous substances. The valuable lotion was used by the Emperor Maximilian, and Empress Carlotta of Mexico, and universally used by Mexicans for three hundred years. As a wash for the head—it is cooling, cleansing and refreshing.—When thus used it at once relieves headache.

WILD FLOWERS FOR THE TEETH.

All those who are in favor of white teeth and a pleasant and perfumed breath should at once use McGuire's Wild Flowers for the Teeth. All these preparations are put up in the most elegant and ornamental manner. We make no exaggeration in saying that they are an ornament to a lady's toilet table, and none complete without them. Warranted satisfactory or money refunded. Dealers will bear this in mind. Sold by all respectable Druggists in the United States and Canadas. Address orders to
